If you want your child to succeed, they should study at least 2 hrs per day after school. Form 4 & 5 much more time should be put into studying. Some study tips are listed below:

- We encourage you to coach your child to sit undisturbed and revise at least two subjects per day.
- Use (YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, and Music) to revise the subject topic.
- Another hour should be spent completing their homework and assignments.
- Re-writing answers and doing presentation to family members help it stick....sharpen your memory skills.
- Congratulate your child for the small efforts.

Follow the step by step example below to help your child prepare a study timetable.

How to prepare a study timetable:

Draw up or find a basic timetable. It should be a chart consisting of the variables "date," "time," and "subject." Everyone makes charts differently, so make whichever kind is easiest for you.

1. Check your schedule. Fill in when you have things going on (e.g. Basketball Training) or when you have to meet with someone after school. This way, you can avoid stress about when you will study, because you have it all planned out.

Make time for breaks. You can drown yourself in studying, you know. Every 15 minutes or so, take a break and get a snack or do something.

Take some time to make it pretty. It should be colored in and neat, so that it won’t be shaming to look at. Make it pretty (Do the coloring if you have time for it, or else do it neatly).
Avoid stress. Don't follow the timetable down to the seconds. It's a little system to help you do better in school. Base your time off of it, but don't become stressed out because you took a break a minute longer than you were supposed to.

Keep to it. Have faith in your timetable, and it will help you.
Tips

- When revising, don't listen to music with lyrics, since you tend to focus too much on the words and get distracted.
- Put water or juice next to you so if you are thirsty you don't have to put off.
- Study at the time that you know works best for you.
- Clear away any clutter from your work space.
- Set aside time for breaks.
- Keep siblings out due to the fact that they can keep you from getting your work done.
- Do not procrastinate.
